The Philadelphia Publisher Writes a Searching Screed Searing Pennsylvania's Subtle Senator... The Execu-

live Advised to Drop Senator Quay, Senator Matthew S. Quay has not gained the commanding position he now holds in national and Pennsylvanla State politics without struggles which have made him enemies. These are both personal and political, and there is scarcely anything in the way of political warfare they would not do to destroy his hold upon the Administration and ruin him in the estimation of his party. Some weeks ago a highly sensational story was published in the New York World alleging at great length, and with a ridiculous attempt at fine writing, that Senator Quay, when Treasurer, was a defaulter, the amount of the defalcation being made up by party friends to prevent public scandal. The story was not a very probable one, and the manner of its telling was such as to give it the air of a "fake" rather than of verity.

Another attack has just been made on the Pennsylvania Senator by Mr. H. C. Lea, a leading publisher of Philadelphia, who has written and published an open letter to President Harrison. This letter has created something of a polit-ical sensation in Pennsylvania, and may prove to be an important factor in the politics of that State this fall, and even in the national campaign two years from now. Hence THE CRITIC repro-duces Mr. Lea's letter, which is as fol-

"Sir. No graver scandal has dark-ened our political history than the charges brought against Senator Quay charges brought against Senator Quay by the New York World in its issues of February 10 and March 3. It would be useless here to recapitulate them further than to say that, with full details of names and places and dates, the World asserts him to be a man whose political career has been a succession of flagrantly dishonest acts, including the temporary abstraction from the State Treasury of $260,000 in one instance and of $400,000 in another.

"No such accusations, involving into

'No such accusations, involving iniquity so varied and so continue supported by such an array of minute detail, have ever before, I believe, been brought against a politician so conspicuous. If they are true, Scnator Quay ought to be in the penitentiary. If they are false, he is a cruelly libeled man; his accuser is a journal of the highest financial standing, and no jury of his countrymen would re-fuse him exemplary damages that would put him beyond all future reach of want. Vindication and profit both await him as an incentive to prove his ipnocence; but although two months have elapsed since the gravest of the charges were made public, neither solicitude for his character nor desire of gain has prompted him to break silence. It is his own fault if the publie should regard him as acquiescing in the truth of the charges. is true that the crimes alleged against Senator Quay are connected only with his career as a Pennsylvania boss, but your close connection with bim has rendered the scandal national. You are duly warned in advance from a friendly source of the dangers of such an alliance, yet by accepting this man, Mr. Wanamaker, as a member of your Cabinet, you assumed responsibility for both of them. In pursuance of this alliance you have enlarged Mr. Quay's importance by virtually giving him control of the Federal patronage in Pennsylvania, thus rendering him the dictator of the Republican party in the State.

"He boasted of your subserviency to him when, in explaining his triumph over Representative Dalzell in the struggle for the Pittsburg Postoffice, he pub-licly said that 'the President, though very anxious to gratify Mr. Dalzell, for whom he has a high esteem, could not under all the circumstances, well avoid complying with my wishes.' Even Mr. Quay's remarkable silence under the accusations of the World does not seem to have lessened his influences over you. He signalized his return from Florida a week or two since by captur ing the Pittsburg Surveyorship of Customs against candidates urged respectively by Secretary Blaine and Representative Dalzell.

"Indeed, his power would seem to be as great in Washington as in this State, for the party organs now tell us that he has been endeavoring to buy off a super-fluous candidate for the Governorship with an Assistant Secretaryship of War. In thus entering into a political partner-ship with Mr. Quay, you must share the losses as well as the gains of the venture. It is not Pennsylvania alone, nor even the Republican party only, that has a right to protest: every citizen of the land must feel humiliation at the smirch thus inflicted on the Chief

Magistracy of the nation.

"As a Republican by conviction, ardently desiring the success of the party so long as it deserves success, let me request you, Mr. President, to take a calm survey of the situation and render to yourself an account of your stewardship. Thirteen months ago you en-tered upon the duties of the highest office which the world has to bestow; your party was supreme in the control both Houses of Congress and of the Executive: everything promised a prosperous and useful Administration, in which you, by simply adhering to the pledges under which you were elected, might earn another term from the confidence and gratitude of the people The only cloud upon the horizon was your acceptance of a Post master-General at Mr. Quay's dictation ostensibly as a reward for certain services performed during the canvass, That cloud, then no larger than a man's hand, has spread till it covers the

'Look back now and reflect upon your work. You have sedulously de-voted yourself to the distribution of 'pu-tronage,' you have turned out nearly 40,000 Democratic office holders, and in this ignoble business you have filled acancles thus made by giving gition' to the worst element in the party You have thus degraded it to the lowest level, till it no longer deserves or enjoys the public confidence, and its interest, as well as that of the nation demands its purification by defeat. You have earned for it the denunciation of the Hebrew prophet: The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money; yet will they lean upon the Lord and say, Is not the Lord among us? None evil can come among Therefore shall Zion for your sake plowed as a field, and Jerusatem shall become heaps. But it needs no prophet to foretell the result.

The elections of last November were a warning that the people would not tolerate your methods. You have refused to heed the lesson, and the elec-tion of next November will emphasize it. The narrow Republican majority in the Lower House will be swept away, and your path for the latter half of your Administration will be a path this disease which they cannot cure. The of thorns. you by Pennsylvania by riveting upon her the chains of Quayism. You need not wonder that disaffection is spreading rapidly throughout her borders in a manner that may render even her al-legiance doubtful. The outlook for 1892 is even darker. Were the Presidential election to take place to-mor-row, there could scarce be deubt of Democratic success. Let me counse you, Mr. President, as a friend, to re flect that this has been your work in one short year of misused power.

"If this retrospection should bring with it repentance and amendment, you still have before you three years which may be fruitful for good. Bear in mind that 'faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.' Discard the advisers who are luring you to your downfall. Recognize that the truest political expediency lies in the application of con-science to public affairs, and that you can serve your party best by stimulat-ing the nobler aspirations of the nation rather than by pandering to the baser appetites of spotlsmen.

Cease to expect to gather figs of thistles or to touch pitch without defilement. Apply to your public duties the high standard of morality to which you adhere in your private life. Remember that evil can give birth only to evil, and that you, as Chief Magistrate of sixty-five millions of freemen, have on your soul a charge for which we on your soul a charge for which you must reckon to posterity and to God. THE MEMORIAL BRIDGE,

Two of Its Boomers Join Hands Acros.

Major R. S. Lacey has joined hands across the Potomac, as it were, with Captain Symons on the recommendation of the latter to construct a Memorial bridge from the foot of New York avenue to the Arlington reservation. Major Lacey lives on the other side of the river, but his business office is in this city, consequently he is well in-formed as to the entire subject.

The bridge, he said, is paramount to the question of restoring the District to the original and constitutionally prescribed limits of ten miles square. Every national, municipal and private interest on both sides of the Potomac demand that it be bridged at the earliest day possible.

The nation's interest lies in the fact that though its Arlington estate is a most important and essential adjunct to the National Capital, it lies there as helpless and useless as if it were in The Government cannot to day, under the existing state of affairs. reach its own property, even under ex-ecutive direction, without crossing over

No soldier can stand upon the heights of Arlington without expressing feelings of surprise that Congress did not years ago, by bridging the Potomac with its own structure, secure means of direct communication with the estate thereby making it a part and parcel of the District of Columbia.

The foot of Seventeenth street, from whence it is proposed to construct the bridge, is the only point on the city's front to which our entire street car sys-tem converges. Then, with the most ample railroad facilities and wharfage deep and extensive enough to permit the anchorage of a thousand ocean steamers, the nation can offer one of the prettiest sites in the country.

COOKS AS CARVERS

Charles Laughton Badly Slashed with a Butcher-Knife.

There was a right lively row among the kitchen employes of Sander's Hotel on D street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, yesterday afternoon. Dan Myers and Charles Laughton, two colored employes, became involved in a dispute, which resulted in Myers re sorting to the use of a carving knife. Laughton accused Myers of attempting to steal a pair of his shoes and also made some very insulting remarks in reference to his mother.

A tussle ensued, and Laughton was badly cut in several places. He was taken to the First Precinct station and Dr. Middleton of the Emergency Hospital dressed his wounds. He received a bad gash across the palm of the right hand, also a cut in the right shoulder. Officer Caverly was detailed to apprehend Myers and traced him to a cellar on D street. When he undertook to arrest him Myers pulled a revolver and at-tempted to shoot the officer, but after wards the revolver could not be found. He was locked up in the First Precinct Station, charged with assault and battery with attempt to kill.

In the Police Court this morning Meyers was given three months in the jail for the assault.

BARED HIS BREAST IN COURT,

Ex-Mayor Cody's Slayer Showed His Wound to the Jury.
AUGUSTA, GA., April 11.—The trial of Major C. E. McGregor for the murder of J. M. W. Cody was begun at Warrenton yesterday. The doubts entertained about securing a jury have been expelled, a few hours sufficing to empanel twelve men to try the case.

The defense stole a march on the prosecution and astonished the crowd in attendance by putting the prisoner on the stand. A dramatic scene followed. Prefacing his statement with the explanation to the jury that any apparent nervousness on his part was due solely to his long confinement in jail, Major McGregor began his story. First, however, stripping himself to the waist, he advanced to a position in front of the jury, where he displayed to each the scar made by the bullet from Cody's pistol the night that lying in ambush in McGregor's yard, he fired the shot that was to have been a death wound. McGregor's statement was that a negro had been hired by Cody to do deed, but had weakened, whereupon Cody undertook personally to put him out of the way.

"Cody confessed this to me," said Major McGregor, "and admitted that he had no cause for the deed and was

A BOX OF GOLD,

Investigating Frauds in the Building of the State Capitol, ALBANY, N. Y., April 11 .- In the South Assembly ceiling case, Roland A. Gore, a brother in law of Andrews, ex-superintendent of public buildings, was on the stand yesterday. He told of his relations with Andrews as an assistant, and said he had heard the testimony before the Fish committee. He said that for five weeks during that investigation he had Mrs. Andrews confined in his house, and that she did not go away, as was alleged by Andrews before the committee. Andrews visited her there.

Two days after she was brought there a box was brought there. In that box was a quantity of gold coin, bonds, stocks and an agreement between Snaith and Andrews for an equal division of the money made on the work. The paper was taken from the box and kept by witness until after the Fish case was finished when it was returned to Mr. Andrews by the witness in per-

He read the paper twice, and its con-tents provided for a half-and-half division of the profits on both ceiling and staircase. The date was June 27. The amount in gold coin in the box was $350; currency, $14,000, and stocks and bonds $40,000. The alleged staircase contract between Sullivan and Snaith was a paper made after Mr. Snaith returned from Pittsfield, and during the Ainsworth investigation. He had seen vouchers containing things which were not furnished by Ainsworth, had told him that the vouchers were so made for Snaith that he would have to make a division of the spoils or be exposed on the vouchers. Andrews said that this was the only way he could hold Snaith in check and make him divide half of the profits,

The grounds of the action on Martin's part are that pressure was brought on him by his political and personal friends to remain in the government and help carry out important legislation for which he himself was argely responsible. Others, however, assert that Martin goes back as premier virtually and that Greenway could not secure any person to fill his position.

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permaneut good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions. I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
